Predictive Services Discussion: Northern Florida and southern Georgia will see generally dry weather with low humidity today before a cold front brings higher humidity and a chance of showers Thursday. Central and southern Florida will have scattered showers today and Wednesday. Arizona will see the threat of dry thunderstorms in the east today spreading to the west on Thursday. Northern Minnesota will be cool with a chance of showers today, while warmer, drier and windy weather is on tap for Thursday. Southern California will have night and morning low clouds along the coast through Thursday while the mountains remain dry with low humidity.
